SECOND BOARD.
The Boston Evening Transcript says:
Money continues in good demand without much alteration in the simple rates. Everything is more or less than it was. Last week's small call rates are now in class of preference. Few notes, however good, are discounted under 7 1/2 per cent. The stock market in general is not active, but quite steady at the quotations, with a constant demand for the public securities, which are wanted in large and small lots for investment.
The Cincinnati Gazette of Tuesday says:
Business is down for money today, and bankers feel more comfortable in regard to the supply of currency, the withdrawals of balances not being so rapid as last week, but currency is still in the declining scale, and the disposition remains to contract the line of discounts. The applications for loans to-day were no more than half as large as last week, that there was but one-half good paper refused. In case of no active demand, however, the price would be quite flat, and the principal would be easily paid off.
The Chicago Tribune of Thursday says:
Business is down very quiet, and there was a general decline in value. This is owing chiefly to the advancing tendency in freight, but partially to the closeness of the money market. The drafts on the leading discount houses during the past few days by country bankers here have been unusually heavy, and this has tended to increase the stringency. To-day the demand for loans is still less than it was last week, but the discount rates are still as great as in their best moments. The rate is unchanged, viz., 10 per cent per annum, but the demand is great, and the scarcity of currency keeps the market dull and weak. The buying rate at the banks is generally 10-12 per cent, and they are going up to 12-15 per cent. Bonds were sold by the banks to each other at 7 1/2-8 per cent.
Markets—CAREFULLY REPORTED FOR THE N. Y. TRIBUNE.
THURSDAY, Oct. 12, 1865.
ASHES.—The market is duller, with a moderate demand, sales at $8 per bush. and $8 1/2 per bush.
COTTON.—The demand continues good from speculators and shippers, and prices are again rising. The market is still in a state of transition, but quite steady at the quotations, with a constant demand for the public securities, which are wanted in large and small lots for investment.
